VA Benefits

Chapter 30 – Montgomery

GI Bill (Active Duty)

Eligibility: Must initially enter active duty after June 30, 1985, and serve continuously for 3 years or 2 years followed by 4-year enlistment in Selected Reserve (military pay reduced by $100 each month for 12 months); have entitlement under the Vietnam Era GI Bill on December 31, 1989, with active duty from October 19, 1984, through June 30, 1988 or June 30, 1987, followed by 4-year enlistment in Selected Reserve (no reduction in pay); or be on active duty on September 30, 1990 or on or after November 30, 1993, and be involuntarily separated after February 2, 1991, to elect Chapter 30 benefits (also allows individuals voluntarily separated after October 23, 1992, and those involuntarily separated after December 4, 1991, and before October 23, 1992, to elect Chapter 30 benefits; must have pay reduced by $1,200 prior to separation from active duty). Less than honorable discharge disqualifies an individual for all categories. Individual must complete high school, GED or 12 credit hours of college subjects before applying for Montgomery GI Bill benefits. Active duty personnel must serve 2 years before using benefit. Discharge for convenience of government, disability, hardship, medical condition that preexisted military service or one interfering with military job performance or reduction in force prior to completion of qualifying active duty may not be disqualifying. Eligibility generally ends 10 years after separation from active duty.

Benefits: Monthly benefits for training in degree and nondegree programs, apprenticeship/on-job, correspondence, cooperative, and flight training. Thirty-six months of full-time benefits are available; lesser number if qualifying active duty period is not completed.

Chapter 31 – Vocational Rehabilitation for Service-Disabled Veterans

Eligibility: Effective October 1, 1993, must have a disability which VA has rated at least 10% compensable, have an employment handicap according to VA, and be within period of eligibility (generally 12 years following the date of notification of entitlement to VA compensation for disability).

Benefits: Cost of tuition, books, fees, supplies, and equipment. While in training or extended evaluation, veteran may receive a subsistence allowance in addition to disability compensation or military retired pay.

Chapter 32 – Post-Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program

Eligibility: Must have initially entered active duty between January 1, 1977, and June 30, 1985, and enrolled in and made contributions from $25 to $100 each month while on active duty up to a maximum of $2,700 with 2-for-1 matching funds from the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD). (Additional contributions called kickers may be made by DoD.) Generally, the participant must have completed 24 continuous months or the full period for which he or she was called or ordered to active duty, whichever is less (does not apply if individual was discharged under early-out discharge, hardship discharge or service-connected disability). Discharge must be under conditions other than dishonorable. Active duty personnel are eligible if first obligated period of active duty has been completed. Eligibility extends for 10 years after release from active duty. Certain individuals who entered active duty between November 30, 1980, and October 1, 1981, will have their contributions made by DoD.

Benefits: Monthly payments for number of months participants contributed or for 36 months, whichever is less. Amount of monthly benefits depends on amount and number of contributions.

Chapter 35 – Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance Program

Eligibility: Must be the child, spouse or surviving spouse of a veteran who died or is permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected disability arising out of active service in the Armed Forces or who died from any cause while such disability was in existence or be the child or spouse of a person who is on active duty as a member of the Armed Forces and who is and for at least 90 days has been listed by the DoD as a POW or MIA or otherwise forcibly detained by a foreign government or power. A child generally may use this benefit between the ages of 18 and 26, although exceptions do exist. A spouse has 10 years from the date eligibility is established.

Benefits: Eligible individuals receive up to 45 months of training and full-time monthly benefits. They may pursue the same training approved for Chapter 30 with the exception of flight programs.

Chapter 1606 – Montgomery GI Bill (Selected Reserve)

Eligibility: For Selected Reserve and National Guard members, individual must on or after July 1, 1985, enlist, reenlist or extend an enlistment in the Selected Reserve or National Guard so that he or she has an obligation to serve for a period of not less than 6 years following the date of such action or be appointed or serving as a reserve officer and agree to serve in the Selected Reserve for a period of not less than 6 years in addition to any other period of obligated Selected Reserve service; have completed the requirements for high school diploma or GED before completing the initial active duty for training (IADT) or before completing a reenlistment or extending an enlistment in order to establish eligibility for Chapter 1606 benefits; have completed IADT and be satisfactorily participating in required training in the Selected Reserve; and have enlisted, reenlisted or extended an enlistment for 6 years on or after October 1, 1990, for pursuit of noncollege degree programs.

Benefits: Monthly rates for school training; lesser rates for correspondence, cooperative, and apprenticeship/on-job training. Flight training reimbursed at 60% of established charges for program.

Reserve Education Assistance Program (REAP)

Eligibility: Determined by the Department of Defense or the Department of Homeland Security. Generally, a member of a reserve component who served on active duty on or after September 11, 2001, under title 10 U.S.C. for at least 90 consecutive days under a contingency operation is eligible for REAP. National Guard members are eligible if their active service extends for 90 consecutive days or more and their service is authorized by the Secretary of Defense or President under title 32 U.S.C. Eligible person entitled to 36 months of benefits. All training available under Montgomery GI Bill eligible under REAP.
